David Thomas and his wife Debra Meyer moved to Kelowna in late 2015 from West Vancouver. They were active members at Hollyburn Country Club and participated in the many events as well as volunteering for the Odlum Brown Tournament. The Tennis community at Hollyburn was very social with the AFTER Tennis being as important as the game itself. I would like to duplicate that experience for the members of Okanagan Mission Tennis.

I believe Okanagan Mission Tennis has tremendous potential to go to the next level as a Tennis Club and be an important part of the community. We have a fantastic asset and good membership base which we could use to leverage the City and the community to work with us towards establishing a winter facility preferably as part of our club or in another convenient location.

I have 35 years' experience in Commercial Real Estate and land development working with City Hall, contractors, financing and business plans required to accomplish the desired results. I also served many years ago as President of the Vancouver JayCees and learned the workings of a service club such as the Lions and the constant need for fund raising and community service. I see the importance of being on the OMCHA board in order to contribute to the running and continued success of the entire property and see it to continue to function as a prominent meeting place for many members of the community outside of the tennis community.

The most important thing in any organization is for the members to enjoy each other both in competition and socially. We have only a few hours each week to do this so let's make the most of it.
