

Joel de Pfyffer

Since my return to playing tennis about ten years ago and joining the Mission club, I have become fairly hooked on the game. I have taken a few private lessons, been involved in various leagues, played in tournaments throughout BC and south of the border, incessantly watched the pro tour, and volunteered in various capacities at our little club and for the ITF tournament at the Parkinson courts.

I was a founding member of the Kelowna Ultimate Players Society, helped draft the bylaws, incorporate the society, and served as the first president for three years. During that time we organized learn-to-play clinics, established the first Ultimate Frisbee leagues in Kelowna, hosted the first invitational tournaments here, and laid the ground work for a very successful organization. Basically, I have experience volunteering in a leadership role for a non profit society and working with people that are passionate about their organization.

Finally, I have been a carpenter for the past twenty years. I am very familiar with all aspects of construction and the inner and outer workings of buildings. As a facilities consultant I think I could be a helpful asset to the OMCHA board.

Sincerely,
Joel de Pfyffer
